

When life's lemons were tossed Grace's way, she made lemonade. She simply adjusted the taste to suit the situation and moved on. Her positive attitude, work ethic, kindness and love of life were infectious to all around her. Grace collected friends and built lifelong relationships, from creating in her kitchen, to the Sunny Brook Country Club, and her Chateau Village Community. She took pride as a 50 year member of Peninsular Chapter #65 Order of the Eastern Star as well as being a 1976 Grand Committee Honoree and Daughter of the Nile past Queen. Grace was deeply devoted to family.

Grace was preceded in death by her husband Nate, parents, Russell and Ruth Hornberger and brothers, Jack C. and Leon Hornberger.

She will be lovingly remembered by sons, F. Michael (Suellen) Terry and Brian (Cyndy) Terry; daughter Pamela (Jon) Woodson; grandchildren, Russel (Jen) Terry, Becky Terry, Michael Woodson, Katherine (Fernando) Woodson-Guardiola, Andrea (Chris) Tinkey; great granddaughters Emma Alexis Terry, Layne Grace Terry, and Gracelyn Jayne Tinkey.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a Hospice provider of your choice.

Cremation has taken place.

NEWS BRIEFS Food Bank nets 120K lbs. of food

BRADENTON — More than 120,000 pounds of food was collected this past weekend for the Food Bank of Manatee during the annual "Stuff the Bus" campaign. The amount collected easily exceeded the goal of 100,000 pounds of food.

Each of the last three years, the Manatee School District has partnered with Publix and other area business partners to collect food for the food bank just prior to the holiday season.

During this past weekend, Manatee District school buses were parked in front of all Publix locations in Manatee County. Area shoppers were encouraged to donate food to fill each bus.

Free screening of kids' film on bullying offered to public

LAKESWOOD RANCH — The Sarasota Film Society and Inspired Minds have teamed up to offer a free screening of The Good Kids, a short film that addresses the serious concern of bullying. The Good Kids was created by elementary, middle, and high school students during the Inspired Minds' Film Kids Camp.

The Good Kids Screening and Inspired Minds' Red Carpet event will be held at Lakewood Ranch Cinemas at 9 a.m. Dec. 3. This free event is open to the public.

Life-long learning class samples to be offered

MANATEE — The Lifelong Learning Academy at USF Sarasota-Manatee will offer a full day of free sample courses 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Dec. 14 for those interested in learning more about the academy or in getting a flavor of specific courses offered in the winter catalog. More than 30 instructors will give half-hour presentations outlining their course, followed by 30-minute sessions for questions/answers with the instructor.

Visitors will also be treated to an art exhibit, and special theater and musical performances by students and local cultural organizations. Round-table discussions on educational issues will take place in Selby Auditorium. The university café will be open and parking is free.

The academy offers non-credit, university-level courses on topics ranging from history and global issues, to arts and culture, to science and technology—and everything in between. A total of 68 classes are available for the winter session, which starts Jan. 9. The only prerequisite to attend is the desire to learn and share experiences.
